REPORT OF STATE PUBLIC HEALTH NURSE

The New Hampshire State Health Department sponsored two polio clinics for those eligible in your town in cooperation with the local board of education.

At the clinic held in May, your children came to Brentwood for their first inoculation. At that time 88 children received their first inoculation. The second clinic was held at the Ellis School in Fremont. Here 113 attended. Four pregnant women received their first injection, 40 children, who evidently missed the first time, came for their first, and 73 received their second inoculation.

In May, all in the age group of six months through 19 years and pregnant women who have had two injections will be ready for their booster shot. I hope to be able to set up a clinic for this purpose then.

In addition to this, I, as public health nurse in your area, have visited your town several times. I have called on new babies, have done follow-up work in tuberculosis, heart and venereal disease programs. I have referred any defects found to family physicians or to facilities existing in our state for correction.

I wish to thank everyone who has cooperated with me in making my program a success.

JEANNETTE B. BERNIER, R. N.

REPORT OF THE PLANNING BOARD

Regular monthly meetings have been on the third Thursday of each month. In January and October a representative of the State Planning and Development Commission met with us to aid us with present problems and future planning for the growth of our town.

In order to obtain a picture of the labor potential in town a questionnaire was mailed to each resident voter. The result, with a return of about 150, showed a wide variety of labor skills and experience which will be an asset in attracting an industry to this area. Efforts in this direction are continuing under Victor Marcotte's special Industrial Committee.

A proposed revision of two articles now in the zoning ordinance and an addition of three proposed new articles will appear in the Town Warrant for your consideration.

Efforts to secure better medical attention for the community by bringing a qualified physician to open an office in town appeared to be successful until the doctor received a summons from the draft board just as final arrangements were being made. Although qualified physicians are desperately needed in many communities, efforts are continuing to attract one to Fremont.

All planning board meetings are open to the townspeople, and suggestions as to ways and means to better our town are always welcome.

REPORT OF CHIEF OF FIRE DEPARTMENT

Fremont was unfortunate in having had two bad fires during 1956, both occurring on the same day. One was the barn of George A. Bassett, with a woods fire caused by flying embers, and the other the house and barn of Leslie Keniston, with a woods fire caused by flying embers. The cause of neither fire has been determined, but weather conditions, a hot sun shining on water-filled glass jugs, could have been the cause of one fire, and possibly both. Both fires had a big start before they were discovered and delay in receiving the report of the Keniston fire due to the trucks and firemen being at the Bassett Farm is regretted. The teamwork of the Raymond Department with the Fremont Department is credited with saving the Bassett house. The aid given by the Kingston Department at the Bassett is greatly appreciated, as is the help of the Sandown Department at the Keniston fire.

The work of the chief has been considerably lightened this year. The weekly check of the trucks has been taken over by Clarence Philbrick. Steward Carmichael took charge of fencing the water hole on Main Street and was aided by Kenneth Crooker. There is one more water hole to be fenced in the spring. Fred LeClair has done an excellent job of keeping the Fire House in order as well as the grounds surrounding it. He has also done a fine job of snow removal there. Moses Seavey has charge of oil burner inspections.

The Fire Association ran a carnival in July which was fairly successful, and hopes to run another this year with better results.

Following is a list of the fires which occurred in 1956:

REPORT OF FOREST FIRE WARDEN

I should like to report that during the past year we had only one forest fire which started in Raymond and came over the line into Fremont. This fire burned about seven and one half acres in each town.

Will any person who burns in an incinerator or barrel please get a written permit from his forest fire warden.

REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDENT OF SCHOOLS

To the School Board and Citizens of the town of Fremont.

We have heard a great deal about reading in our schools. I believe that you parents will welcome the opportunity to come behind the scenes with me in order to gain an insight into what our reading program is endeavoring to do for our children.

A child's success in school, as well as the pattern of his personal and social adjustments later on in life, will be greatly affected by the success with which he makes adjustments in reading during the early years of his life.

When children enter school they differ in many ways that can be measured. They differ in height, weight, strength of grip, emotional control and ways of working and playing with other children.

They differ in their preception skills, their ability to follow direction, their language powers, their home backgrounds and their readiness to read.

When they face their first teacher in school they differ in their capacities, achievements, attitudes, abilities and interests. The teacher is confronted with the problem of adopting materials and methods to the needs of each child.

The problems of providing for the range of abilities tend to multiply as the children grow older. In a typical upper grade classroom, children may vary five or more years in reading ability. The range tends to increase as the number of school years increases.

The teacher must have ways of determining how efficiently each child reads so that appropriate reading material may be selected. It should be realized that all pupils cannot be brought up to a single standard of reading achievement in any grade. Various materials are used by the skilled teacher in dealing with reading needs of children. Grouping of children in certain classes according to their achievement level as well as into groups within classes helps reduce the range of reading in each group. Such groupings need to be flexible to allow for differences in the rate of growth of children.

Elementary teachers face the necessity of providing quiet activities for the children not in the particular group engaged in intensive reading. These activities may be related directly to reading, such as reading a library book silently or drawing pictures to illustrate some part of a story which has been read.

Reading materials of various levels of difficulty are needed to meet the abilities found in each group. Free reading periods may be used to stimulate interest in reading.

Teachers at all levels are alert to teach the reading skills needed in their subjects. The reading skills needed in mathematics class are different from those required in reading a current magazine.

The teacher who is responsible for a particular subject is in the best position to provide help in overcoming difficulties for many pupils because through practice and training he is able to identify the need at an early stage and to provide some special help.

This teacher understands the kinds of reading skills needed to do effective work in his subject and helps pupils develop the particular one which will be of greatest value at the time of need.

Instead of further reading practices of the kind of which the pupil has been failing she offers specific help, directed toward a particular need. New reading material is used and the teacher uses additional tests to help in planning the individual's program.

In order to plan the pupils program, a diagnostic and remedial program based upon the work of the regular classroom teacher is a fundamental part of an effective reading plan which provides for the individual differences in the reading abilities of the children.

Looking Toward the Future

Never in the history of education has the shortage of schoolhousing been so acute, serious and confusing. This year marks the greatest number of registered children in our schools. In the near future, a serious shortage of classroom facilities will be in the upper four or six grades. Making the situation more difficult is the rising cost of bond interest due to federal policies, the continuing shortage of building materials, and the increasing rise in labor costs.

Because of the present and future housing difficulties in our schools, I urge the serious need of studying building plans with other educational groups in our area thinking in terms of educational efficiency and ultimate economy. Only through determined study with representative groups of our neighboring communities, can a solution be reached.

I wish to thank the school board, parents, friends, teachers and pupils for having made the year one of success.

Respectfully submitted,

GEORGE P. SULLIVAN,

Superintendent of Schools

REPORT OF MUSIC SUPERVISOR

I have the honor to submit a report on the music activities in the town of Fremont, N. H.

In Fremont the regular weekly visits of the music supervisor are being handled by Miss Thelma Loven. In addition to the regular vocal work, Mr. Robert Zeigner has organized a school band. There are presently fifteen pupils in the band and more are expected to enroll. The band will be combined with the bands of the other towns in the Union for a series of concerts in the spring.

1. A new vocal curriculum guide is now being prepared. A copy of this guide will be placed in the hands of each teacher. It will be in loose-leaf form so that additional materials may be added from time to time. It is expected that this guide will be of great value to the teachers, not only in the preparation of their work, but in the continuing growth and development of the music program in the various towns of the Union.

A series of special music festivals are now being planned for each of the towns in the Union. These festivals will form a climax for the years work. Included on the program will be vocal selections by all of the pupils in each school. As a special feature the bands of the various towns in the Union will be combined and will appear at each of the local festivals. This will make it possible for the schools which do not have an instrumental music program at the present time to observe what has been done during the first year of the instrumental program. It is expected in this way that additional interest in instrumental music may be developed.

At this time I would like to express my personal appreciation to the superintendent of schools, the members of the various school committees, the principals and teachers for their unqualified support of our music program. I feel that we are moving forward in the direction of developing a very well rounded and outstanding music program for the boys and girls in the various schools of Supervisory Union No. 14.

Respectfully submitted,
WARREN S. FREEMAN,
Music Co-ordinator

NURSE'S REPORT

To the Superintendent, School Board members, and citizens of Fremont:

The school health program of 1956-57 was off to a busy start with the replenishing of first aid kits, checking of vaccinations of first graders, acquiring of health histories, and a general appraisal of each child. This latter in no way supplants your doctor's regular checkup, as any number of serious conditions may go undetected by the nurse.

Heights and weights were obtained and compared with last year's.

The Snellen eye test, which is required annually by state law, has been done, and defects reported to the parents. Where necessary, follow-up home visits will be made.

The hearing testing program is now under way. Because of the large enrollment in the Union, and because of the lack of a quiet place in which to test ears, I feel it will be better to confine the testing to children of certain grades, namely the 1st, 4th, 7th, and 8th. Children who have a known hearing loss, new children, and any whose teacher suspects a hearing loss, will be done regardless of grade.

Polio clinics were held in May and October. Preparation for these clinics is time-consuming and hard work, but well worth it when one sees the number of people who are eager to avail themselves of the opportunity to be immunized. Third shots will be given in the Spring, provided vaccine is available.

The dental clinic will start later on when traveling conditions are better.

Teachers, parents, and co-workers have been most helpful in making the health program a success.

Respectfully submitted,

CONSTANCE J. HUSS, R. N.,

School Nurse
